

We unanimously reject LBI's feeble proposals for Quietway 10

At the monthly ICAG meeting on 13 April, with no spare seats in the room, there was a unanimous vote to reject the Council's plans for the Quietway 10 route.

'ICAG wants a Quietway 10 which is safe for anyone aged 8-80 to cycle on. The plan Islington put forward in the feasibility study does not meet TfL's own standards. Therefore we reject the current plans and will call for TfL not to fund them'

The proposals made by LBI did not include any traffic removal despite some of the roads along it currently being too busy to be classed as a Quietway. Their plans excluded any filters, they refused to take any ICAG comments on board and we find their approach to not using funds already committed by TfL on a key part of the N/S cycling infrastructure, unacceptable.

It was agreed that the ICAG committee would finalise an open letter to Claudia Webb and her officers outlining why ICAG would not be supporting the current proposals.

We also recommended that TfL reallocate their proposed funding of £300k to other cycling infrastructure projects which will deliver real benefits to local communities. While this could be regarded as controversial, it is clear that the money will not be spent on creating a true Quietway and therefore would be better spent in another borough which has the vision and political will to understand the longer-term benefits which Quietways are already delivering in many boroughs throughout London.

ICAG members are all encouraged to engage with their local councillors about the Quietway and other local cycling concerns. Go to your local council surgeries, get to know your councillors and make them aware of your concerns. There's a doodle giving dates of all forthcoming surgeries, plus some key 'asks', on <http://www.liveableislington.uk> so make a date and let us know how you get on.

We urgently need good quality pictures of Quietway 10 for our FB page; if you can send us quality images of good and bad incidents which would support the case for a fit for purpose route, please send to alisondines@clara.co.uk

ICAG's AGM – Wednesday 8 June Town Hall, Upper Street NI 2UD

This is a chance to meet the local cycling community and to find out how you can help make Islington a better borough for cycling. Ben Rogers, director of the Centre for London www.centreforlondon.org is our speaker; read the article which prompted us to invite him <http://tinyurl.com/zxy4nc9>.

All most welcome.

ICAG name change

Many thanks to everyone who sent in suggestions for a new name for ICAG. The committee narrowed the list down to four:

- * Islington Cycling Campaign
- * Islington Cyclists
- * Cycle Islington
- * 'no change' option

ICAG's 2nd Cycle safari ride – Sunday 26 June

In 2015, we held our first family-friendly Safari Ride when about 70 cyclists from 8 to 80 joined us for a leisurely ride round the borough. In response to requests for another, we're delighted to announce our 2nd cycle safari on Sunday 26 June. Meet at the Ecology Centre, Drayton Park, NI at 1000, set off at 1030 and return by 1230. Our route will focus on the Quietway 10 route and will also take in other cycling high spots round the borough.

This is why we all campaign for better cycling provision in Islington and more widely in London; to be able to enjoy safe cycling with friends and family.

Cycle hangars – persistence pays

When cyclist Laurie Canham moved to a second-floor maisonette in Islington in 2010, he identified a small area of unused land just outside his home. An ideal place he thought to build a bike hanger to save him, and other cyclists in the neighbouring blocks, from heaving their bikes up and down stairs and avoiding leaving them either outside, with the inevitable risk of theft, or in communal walkways.

He approached the Managing agents, Hyde Group, with a business case and received a sympathetic hearing. In 2011, he presented to the residents' association, which supported the idea, and the local site engineer who agreed that the proposed site was ideal.

Nothing happened for two years in spite of Laurie following up and then in 2014, the team at the Managing agents changed. So he started campaigning again.

Earlier this year, 5 years after having first suggested the idea, the local engineering services manager gave the final approval. The waste space was paved over, the hanger was installed and 2 keys were provided for 6 bikes. Oh dear. The local housing officer responsible for the project managed to procure the missing keys and in March this year, Laurie locked up his bike for the first time in a bike hanger at the entrance to his home. Persistence pays!

Let us know how you are getting on; have you asked either your housing association or the council for a hanger? What was their response? Islington is shamefully behind its neighbouring boroughs of Hackney and Camden in providing safe, secure bike parking. Depending on the weekly charge, the capital outlay for a fully-subscribed hanger would be paid back in between 3 - 5 years. We believe that LBI are in tentative talks with a hanger provider but the more the issue is highlighted by people asking for hangars, the more chance there is of seeing them installed in our streets. Remember, one hanger for six bikes equals one space for a single car.
